Advances in aerospace

Researchers from the OSU Center for Health Sciences continue to impact the global aviation industry. An OSU-CHS Center for Aerospace and Hyperbaric Medicine study on altitude and passenger comfort used in the development of Boeing’s new 787 Dreamliner explored ways to offer travelers a more comfortable flight experience.

America’s Brightest ORANGE

Tulsa, Oklahoma  (918) 582-1972  www.healthsciences.okstate.edu